Umbral_DelaFlare is right. I've been in this community for over a year now. I don't even play Renegade anymore. I stayed here for the the people (well, at least the good ones). We stick together, especially in times of trouble.

Renegade may not be the greatest game, but it sure has the greatest community.

And Aprime, remember that man is fallible, but God is not. Putting all your faith in people will dissappoint you. Might I suggest you click here

And have a very Merry Christmas everybody! :xmas:
