Eh ... it's people like you that make America look like ignorant assholes. Posting that right wing bullshit up and then telling people you watch unbiased news FOX, give me a break - they have Bush's head so far up their ass when he spits it comes out of their mouth.

Of course the French are just as petty and childish, if not more so. But still, posting pictures are fine - that's funny, but that boycott is fucking stupid. Not only that, it's anti-American. The people who are really hurting from that are the American citizens that own the franchises.

I really wish people were smarter.
