DBBImdgr8oneDoes anyone even realize that they don't choose to be gay, they're born with it. Some of you people are so anti-gay that you wonder why many gay people don't make it past high school. Id rather it if they didnt even make it to high school. If they are going to run around showing and preaching their homosexuality (which every gay I have ever met, and Ive met a lot around here, does) then they deserve to get mistreated for it. If they got it they can flaunt it. But, I also got my reasons for disliking them. So im going to flaunt that around too. If someone tells me I cant, tough luck for them, because im going to flaunt my fist all over their jawbone untill they realize the issue.

Pictures year in -(2998)-....final human species dies. From what? Not an asteroid. Not a nuclear war. Definitely not an AI. But, from the simple fact that men and women no longer had sex and produced babies.--Thank you Gay eye for a Straight Guy, Richard Simmons, Priests, The Village People, and Will and Grace, for ending the worlds population of the humans.

Thanks for being an ignorant fuck. But hey, maybe you're right; the world is DANGEROUSLY UNDERPOPULATED. There's no way that having some people be gay is nature's way of trying balance the fact that there are just way too fucking many people as it is. And hey, if you want to discriminate against people because they're gay, and punch anyone who disagrees with you, I can't wait until you get the shit kicked out of you.
