BrutusAbout 40km west of Oslo, the capital of cold, cold Norway. About 5km east of the nearest town, Drammen (50 000 inhabitants. An old shipping centre. Takes in mostly cars these days), but with good railway connections.

What about a new twist: Posting a map with a arrow pointing out where you live? First a world map, then a country map, and then a county map for in case there are any interested locals.

Goes off to find some maps

I know exactly where those cities are. I still have realitives in Drammen, Norway. My ancestors started the Town of Drammen here in Wisconsin, USA!

I live in Milwaukee, WI, USA
