Yeah that's some good stuff. If you would like to help my mod team out (a mod for c&c generals : zero hour called "Tiberian Sun : Rising")

We're recreating Tiberian Sun using the Generals engine.

We are wanting to add new music to it as well as use some tiberian sun music, but if the new stuff is better there is no need for the old

Our site has not been updated for a while (working on new site right now), and has a lot of old models, but we have been updating our forums.

Give us a look...

(haven't updated the forums recently but got a lot of goodies coming soon)

Even if you don't care to help us, I should like to speak with you on an instant messenger service:
