I assume that you are just double clicking on the RenRem Icon :sigh:

You need to open a command prompt before typing in the command.

On windows 2000

Start -> Programs -> Accessories -> Command Prompt

Then change directory to the correct folder.

Then type in the command: Renrem
It will say something like this:

-----
Renegade Remote Server Management Tool
Version 1.11 - ST 7/25/2002 3:20PM
Usage:  RenRem.exe <options> ip port password [local_port]

Options: -r=Request - Send the specified request to the server then quit

-----

Hence in order to start it up properly you will need to type something like:

renrem 127.0.0.1 1234 yourpassword

When renrem starts you will have to enter your password again.
