Well my real point is everyone i know who likes anime and doesnt like dbz, doesnt like it because they watch it once then dismiss it because someone they look up to thinks it sucks. I agree dbz has a crappy storyline after frieza saga but it wasnt supposed to go that far. Anyway everything has a place in this world so we all know there will be a person with a different opinion and we all know we most probably wont change that opinion so i guese thats just how it goes. Oh and he-man sucks.

Oh and John Shaft Jr you really misunderstood me when i said Akira Toriyama was going to end it at the frieza saga, Akira is the creator of dbz not a character .
