Dragonball has a storyline; a young boy falls from the sky in a spaceship, gets brought up by an old man. He gets taught kung-fu and one day he falls from a cliff and hits his head and doesnt act bad any more. He meets a girl called Bulma and they go on a search for the dragonballs and have adventures. Then in DBZ goku finds out he is an alien from the planet vegeta and well it goes on goku beats Frieza and thats were it should have ended. I would have said more but you dont listen to my points anyway so i wont.
