SuperFlyingEngil've just been feeling a bit Mac-slanted lately, since my dad got an AWESOME new G5. The thing renders so insanely fast... And it's a ton cheaper than comparative Windows machines. [If it matters, I didn't get this from MacAddict or wherever, my dad was shopping around and the G5 saved him almost a thousand dollars instead of buying an Alienware with the same capability.

Yes, and hence Bill owning 51% of Apple, doesn't that just stink of monopoly?

Well, money equals power.

do you mean the ability to not play any games except ones that have been out for more than 5 years?

I can tell you one thing. alienware jacks up their prices so going by alien ware prices I could build one better than an alienware for a 4th of the price.
