I normally (since I got 512/256 ADSL) don't have much lag, although when I played RenAlert yesterday on Crimson's server (n00bsrv03) my ping was in the 300 range...I wasn't running anything I don't run normally, and never got that much lag on her servers. I'll check later today to see if the lag is still high, but it's probably a single occurrence.
