Rules are rules. If the server owner doesn't want spawn killers then you either respect that rule or you leave. Simple as that. There is no right or wrong answer on spawn killing. Mine is no spawn killing and crimson's is allowed. Are either of us wrong? No. That's the beauty of this game. You can have several sniper server with different rules. It gives variety to the game. If we had 20 servers with the same exact rules this game would get boring fast.

So like I said... If you don't like the rules leave. Because your complaints about how lame, unfair or n00bish the rules are will fall on deaf ears and in most cases get you kicked.
