WS was shut down because they did not turn out a profit. Stop making a pathetic attempt to be RATM heads and think logically.

Say you work in real estate. If you only sell 5 houses for a year...what happens? Does your company throw you a bone? NO, you get fired because you get paid more than you make for the company. If you don't turn out a profit, you aren't worth keeping around because you're going to screw over everyone else.
