Duke of NukesWS was shut down because they did not turn out a profit. Stop making a pathetic attempt to be RATM heads and think logically.

Say you work in real estate. If you only sell 5 houses for a year...what happens? Does your company throw you a bone? NO, you get fired because you get paid more than you make for the company. If you don't turn out a profit, you aren't worth keeping around because you're going to screw over everyone else.

Bullshit! Nobody forced them to buy WS and they knew what WS is worth. There is no justification for completely downsizing it.
