If you're that desperate then I'll do what I can do. But only because I love TS so much. I don't have so much good skills in mapping and character modeling I would have to read a few more tutorials. I have no idea how to skin and hardly know how it works. Most of the mods now days are very good but the maps are just shit. I don't want to make this mod bad because I love TS. I'm sorry I can't help, but I'll be much better when I get some more experience with gmax. I'll try to make a map or two. If they're good enough for this mod I'll give them to you. As for character modeling I don't know what you want me to do. Also, is there somewhere where I can get a report on your current progress?
