You are only hurting yourself because you want the pictures of the old units and I can give them to you but rather I do or don't I don't really care. I just want to help you and you refuse to say "I'm sorry".

BTW, you're an optimist aren't you?

You can give me the pictures at a price I refuse to pay, the comprimising of my will for your own. You dont 'just want to help me' you desire to break my will and succumb to your desire of being justified in 'thinking' that I was in the moral wrong for telling you to STFU in another thread. You wouldn't believe or understand the 'price' I'll pay to preserve my will & path in life to be untainted and solely my own. For my will & my mind is all I have therefor these two very precious things will not be comprimised muchless for some pictures.

BTW, I'm an objectivismist. See aynrand.org for further details.

ps. You don't even realize the 'asking price' for these pictures but you beg the offer none the less.

All I'm asking is for you to say two words! (sigh)... since I'm nice (unlike someone *points to theOne*), if I have the time I'll upload all of the C&C pictures from I think general.mix extracted from mix and put into zip files. If I find the time.

Your right you did ask me to say two words and I've stated several times I will not be saying those words to you for the reason in question and have provided a detailed explanation why. If you want to upload the images great if not no big deal. If nice means eroding my will and replacing it with yours then I will never be nice, I will be a cold heartless meany-head.

Happily,
The One
