lol

To be completely honest I opened the thread to 'test the waters' if you will. I hope I'm not stirring up too much trouble.

I have pretty much dropped off the radar in the Rene Community (this post doesnt help, lol) but I had visited my old clan's website/forums to say hello and give them a personal update (some thigns I was going through that most of them were familiar with) -- when the subject of RenGuard came up. So my interest was sparked and I checked out the page.

I'm sure any of the RenGuard staff would readily admit that they can understand the skepticism of some members of the community --so don't be upset with me when I said that I was hesitant to believe anything had been released. When I saw that nothing had been released I was kind of amused (please don't take that personally). So I thought I'd start a thread to see how alive some of you were.

Nice to see some old faces.

Most of you would be pleased to know that I've almost completely changed as a person in the last 3-4 months or so. The events in my life are to blame for this.

ACK, I hope all is well with you. I know that there are a lot of people that support you and I know there are a lot of people that despise you. But I will openly say that even though some of your posts were a little 'turbulent' I think you're a good guy and a loyalist of the game ... which I stand behind.

Invader, I know we've had our bouts, but there's no reason to take a game to a personal level so I hold no grudges. You're a good player and you have quite a few people that stand behind you in your skills. Myself included.

mrp: We all know _OZ_ has issues (lol jk) ... but you guys (at least from when I last played with you) were a very respectable and talented clan.

Blazer: Keep up the good work. I am by no means a professional programmer, but I do have a programming background and I can imagine what kind of challenges your team is facing right now. As always, and now more than ever, if there is anything I can do to help just let me know. Even if RenGuard is not used by a single person at least you can have the satisfaction of saying "we did it". Good luck to you!

On these notes I depart.

Renegade was a phenominal game that I enjoyed devoting a part of my life to. But as no one thought they'd hear me say, "life does go on without renegade" (lol). I'm playing generals now (under the same SN, by the way, for those of you that want to play me) ... and that is a pretty decent game.

Take care, all!
