Yeah they left and went somewhere else and made Call of Duty, a mighty fine game alot better then boring ass MOHAA. But I think EA doesnt care about the Command & Conquer license anymore and they'll probobly like sell it to some other companie for cheap then they'll be like "Hey CnC Renegade has a big fan base lets make a Renegade 2, Bob get me some cofee!" Then the executive guy bitch smacks his cofee bitch.
