Yeah but i suck with artilley Im very easily killed by even a newbie with timed c4. I like the more random aproach. Also i know this is sorta off topic but my friend taught me something really kool the other day, on under if your on Nod and GDI are about to seige you, get a stealth tank and hide in the field. Then count how many GDI players there are and how many are in the field. As soon as everyone is out on the field you can just go in and destroy the AGT without any disturbances. This actually worked for me and its very funny to do. Would be much better with 2 stealth tanks though.
