Why are you using an outdated, poorly armed and armored M1, instead of its variants the M1A1 and M1A2?

That's just asking for trouble. The M1 is what's supposed in Red Alert, with a 105mm cannon, and that's why it's weak.

The Army has upgraded almost every M1 to the A1 or A2 standard years ago. Fuck, the A1 was in Desert Storm, they knew that thing sucked and that's why they sent in the A1 instead of the M1 itself.

They're still textures, not skins. Feel free to look like a retard by calling them skins all you want...
