uhh...i'm not gonna discuss politics, but yeah, making war is ok. God did, afterall, lead the Jews into the promised land by having a war with Caanan, and how about Jerhico (no violence, but still a "war") and there are plenty of other instances where there are wars. Maybe you've heard of this war, the Apocalypse. The Apocalypse is a war that's gonna be fought by Jesus and his army against the world's army. So although he said love thy neighbor, he's also going to be the one to destroy the world's army in a war.
