I never said the Republican party was clean. I am saying the the Dems have a habbit of pulling crap like this whole DD214. They defend Clinton on his draft evasion, pot smoking and getting a hummer in the oral err umm the Oval Office yet they attack Bush on his addiction to booze and drugs and his DD214. Remember "Whitewater Gate"? How many whitness died or sudenly couldn't remember details. How many documents did the former First Lady refuse to surrender to the investigating commitee? Who made a joke about the word "Is" and was defended by his party for it?

Or

How many drugs were JFK addicted to, how many women other than his wife did he fuck, how many people died mysterously because of ANY Kennedy?

I remember Watergate, but is also common knowldge that EVERY President... Past... Present... and Future have and will do the same thing as Nixon. Nixon was the only one to get caught.

Other than Watergate and the Iran-Contra Affair what do you have? :rolleyes:

But like I said before I am having a hard time finding a Vietnam Veteran in my VFW post that supports or trusts Kerry. They don't like the fact he is using his veteran status to get votes but in reality he didn't support those that fought in Vietnam. Remember the majority of those that went to Vietnam were NOT drafted. The see him as a "Snake". <--- That referance has been made by many of the Vets in my post. At least George Bush has been loyal to his troops. If you don't see that, then I am sorry my friend you are blinded by hatred.

Also who do you think takes a stronger stance on terrorism? There were more attacks on US interest under Clinto than Bush. Bush was just unlucky to get the largest.
