xpontiusQuote: any temped presets were added to your game, rather than to the map specifically,

You don't mind rephrasing that do you? It is kinda hard to read and comprehend...

On the other hand, why is it that even if I do take it out of the data folder, ren is still messed up? I don't mind reinstalling, but ya know..

edit- o wait, that where is a were...

any temped presets were added to your game...ok

It left a .ddb file behind...always.ddb is the file I believe...Export to another folder and see what files end up in there....the .ddb files are what's conflicting with the other maps.

Delete the ones you created.
