alright, so i quote myself:

"If you want to catch people trying to get around your system, i'm the last person you should point your fingers at. You should be looking at people like spade AKA darthcide that claim to have started renegade with bones in their data folder. alright, thanks."

As i said, he CLAIMED to have done, i didn't say he did. All I said was, if you're trying to "catch" people "trying to get around" your system, you should look at people like him, instead of me.
