

---

Subject: eggmac the pacifist

Posted by eggmac on Wed, 19 Mar 2003 14:00:49 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Quote:

I was on liberty while forward deployed defending Kosovars, Bosnians, Kurds, Shiites, and Herzegovinians from dictatorial aggression in third world nations.

Or better to say, slaughtering Serbs and Iraqis.

Third world nations? Serbia is a third world nation? Do you even know where Serbia is located? Could you find it on a map, or even more, could you tell me the average GDP of Serbia? And ACK, kindly tell me, what is the difference between Bosnia and Herzegovina. And then please back up your assumption that it is a third world country.

I think the greatest problem is that some of you guys are really, REALLY REALLY very strongly blinded by propaganda of the mass media. You always refer to 'defense', 'opposing a threat', 'humanitarian aid' etc. While what the USA is doing is completely the contrary.

Before discussing an issue one has to be able to differentiate and one has to know the subject one is talking on.

This whole Iraq issue will backfire on the USA very quickly. Terrorist attacks will be more probable, international acceptance will shrink even more, USA entirely loses any moral values. Unfortunately, the USA is not the knight in the shining armor standing for peace, justice and freedom, but it is EXACTLY the opposite. For a lot of countries it stands for war, injustice and oppression. And a war on Iraq is another example of that.

The USA have to accept that they must not impose their will on other countries, but to be a responsible part of the international community.

---