
Subject: OT:Music downloading
Posted by DBB on Fri, 09 Apr 2004 16:04:44 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I know this is off topic, but what are your thoughts on it? I see both sides of the argument, but not sure which one I agree with.

I used to download music, like one or two songs from a particular artist to see if I like the song and whatnot and to see if I wanted to buy the cd, but now Im afraid to because of this RIAA or whatever they are. Do you all still download? If so off what,I used to use KazaaLite? Ive been told they only come after you when you download about a 1000 songs a month, I find that kind of far fetched, I always thought even if you downloaded one you could get busted. Ahh, im so confused!
