AlkalineROLF,

you obviously have no clue on web design you retarded maggot

The site I have is not meant to be some gay ass licking community shithead, it is meant for people to leech maps and look at the ladder fucking numbnuts. First step in website design is site objective, not pretty graphics or some other lame retarded shit.

Did you even bother to look at the site? There are only 2 images, the UN logo and paypal button, the rest is PURPOSELY text because I am not trying to make some happy go lucky *WELCOME TO MY UBER RENEGADE* site :rolleyes:

You're the kinda of a dumbass that would put his gay fairy flowers all over the place to impress bitchass punks with your *SKILZ* :rolleyes: means visitors will return.

The site for UNRULES is meant for 1 thing: Play on the servers, download maps, and then go do something else, this is not your n00bstories community playground.

It's the same reason why UNRULES was the fastest growing mod map server, because I cut out all the bullshit and went straight to the point.

Obviously you're a moron because you think unless there are some fucking pretty graphics or a retarded shoutoutbox, the site is lame. Get a fucking clue dumbass.

b.t.w. yes our servers rock and people who play on them love them

Why don't you visit, <http://www.nextgenerationsnipers.com>

Yes, I completely did that site in photoshop, my first site ever, how many graphics are on that site?

LoL non, but it still can't compare to the shit that you did in MS Frontpage can it. Yup, I don't have a shoutbox either. As far as getting a clue...we have one of the best sniping clans out there. Which we will be more than happy to play your clan anyday.

Also, any server admin will say how much their servers rock, and how much everybody loves their server.

Notice, how I wasn't bashing your server's. I was bashing your website. Can you please try to stay on topic here, is that too much to ask.
