AircraftkillerYeah. I said that over at the RA forums. Not here, which is where you've seemingly based your arguments from.

There is nothing wrong with the texture itself. If it were a new SAM Site, it fits fine. Since we wanted to go for an older looking version, I asked Darkblade to upgrade what I did for me.

I don't have a mullet, dumbass. You don't even know what the fuck a mullet really is. It's two things, a type of fish commonly found in the Gulf of Mexico, and an 80s style haircut, requiring a long length in the back (below the shoulder) with a spiked short front.

Sort of like Joe Dirt, except worse looking.

Mine is long around all sides.

Which, again, has nothing to do with any of this.

Actually you don't even need hair at the front to have a mullet.
