like i said who cares about those people any more now that renguard is out bones.ini is toast.....of course now people will try to get around renguard with their own hacks and edits and what not like they did on so many other games with anti-cheat programs but that will take a while so lets enjoy the ride while we can.....i take back what i said...as long as the renguard team keeps updating we wont need to worry about ANY cheats any more....wait screw EVERYTHING i just said cuz not all servers are running renguard as for members of SoQ using bones.ini i neither care nor want to hear about it here
