Well my parents are committing me for depression. I wont be around for long.

i get to go spend a week in a hospital, because i use my computer to much and i didnt want to go see thier damn lady killers movie.

They want me to take mind bending drugs to change my personality, to better suit them.

Ive been a video game editor since 6th grade, working with Duke3d. Its who i am, i dont want to change, but they strive to take it away from me.

My computer even saw air time last night falling from my 2nd story window.
That sucks, it broke my cpu fan and the front of my case. Plus my 120GB HD was ruined by crushing its power connector.

And the reason i can finish goldeneye, is noone will fucking answer any of my damn questions on here, they just blow them off with dip-shit stuff.
