Quote:First of all, there's nothing in the background, just grey.

Quote:The level still needs more foliage detail, but other than that it's pretty much complete and ready to go.

Quote:Second, you could add some better looking paved or gravel access roads, instead of a strip of alpha blended dirt.

Notice the almost exact similarity. That's what I was going for, not a gravel or paved road.

Quote: Third, from what I can see, the majority of the map is just an extruded box, edited a little to look more like terrain.

An extruded box would look like a box with another box coming out of it. This does not look like that.

It already has hills. The lighting isn't showing them correctly.
