RenGuard is great, I have only 256MB RAM, a 2.4GHz processor, & an ok graphics card. RenGuard adds no lag to my comp, it's great to know I can join servers & no longer have to be called a cheat, though most people don't wanna believe me when I say that I have RenGuard. I think it'd be nice if, in servers that aren't RenGuard protected, there were a way to make RG auto-announce that the person has RenGuard or something. So that no one will or can rightfully call the person a cheat just because the person's good.

If that can be done (which I'm sure it can), there could be an option to disable the auto-announce in non-RenGuard protected servers. Then, for the people who are good & get called a cheater alot, can have solid proof that they have RenGuard installed & active.

But of course, that's just an idea, I think alot of people would like to have that though, but that's just my opinion :rolleyes:
