Our server has been empty for over a week and was full about 80% of the time before loading Renguard, but today we had up to 10 players on our 20 person server so Renguard use is on the up. We have committed ourselves to a cheat free Renegade and appreciate all the Blackhand Studios has done for the game and will support Renguard for as long as we have to till about 100% servers are using the program. All I can think of is for everyone to b*tch to the admins of the servers you love to play on and complain daily of cheaters and try to find a server with Renguard on it so you know its a cheat free game.

Long live R E N G U A R D
