[A-INastyDead]We should settle this in a Renegade match, Pagans on nod, Christians on GDI, whoever wins is right. But of course Christians always beat Pagans because Pagans are stupid and think the universe was created from a big exploding rock.

Well.....what created the big ass rock? How can a big ass rock of elements distribute planets, moons, and suns across infinity????

So you're saying that Universum can't have existed always? Why not? Saying that God must've created it is pointless, what was before God then? What created God? Or is it somehow possible that only God can have existed always, the same is not possible for the Universe?

The John Titor guy had some interesting discussion in the pages linked here before, I've read most of the forums and articles (Crap amount of text there, I tell you). It's a fascinating story, but they never released the video from Titors departing which kind of messed up the whole thing.
