

---

Subject: Let's hold our own unofficial election!

Posted by Hydra on Wed, 12 May 2004 22:31:01 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

GizbotvasUm, anyone but Bush...

Since my only other option in this thread is Kerry, I would say Kerry.

For the record, I would vote for my cat before I vote for GW Bush. My cat would do far less damage to the country.

first freakin' post...Democratic candidate: John Kerry

Green Party candidate: Ralph Nader

Ralph Nader was another option + whoever the Libertarian and Constitutional candidates may be. Kerry was NOT your only option :rolleyes:.

Oh, and that "I'll vote for this guy because I don't like that guy" philosophy may be the worst ever.

That's like saying you don't like Idi Amin so you're going to vote for Josef Stalin. :rolleyes:

P.S. MrBob, I'll add in the Libertarian and Constitutional candidates if you tell me who they are (too lazy to look them up myself ).

---