OMG there are real idiots in here. Why would I point you to a link that brings you to some malicious site. Yes the whole FUCKING world is trying to give you links to viruses, take a break you nervous mouse clicker.

Yet again you are the moron. If I saw that link I would go to it because I know what the thread as and I would READ THE URL....Man some people are fucking stupid....You think Alienware has virus coming of their website NO! You think I didn't post a description yet the URL is a description, you can't figure out that it is an Alienware page belonging to them about the topic we are discussing in here. Really you need to broden your mind somewhat and center in on the common sense.
