SuperFlyingEngiPhoenixx, not just not loaded, but lacking the trigger actuator assembly. As in it has no trigger and nothing inside to make it tick. The school would probably ask you to remove it, but I doubt you would get in trouble with the law unless they called the police in panic without understanding the situation or you refuse to remove it.

...not that I'm recommending anyone actually doing this, of course... :rolleyes:And this is why your going to be voting for Kerry..... :rolleyes:
