I was playing on some AOW server on Nod. We were owning GDI. We had destroyed all of their buildings but the AGT and Refinery. I was in an APC, hoping to return to base to get a Sakura for some easy kills before the game ended. I was behind the Refinery. I came around it, behind the War Factory, and BAM, all of a sudden, my APC appeared in the air to the right and behind GDI base. I kept flying away and then reappearing closer. I took tons of screenies, and made this gif. It looks almost identical to what my screen looked like:

I thought I was still in GDI base on everybody else's screen, so I told some GDI players to kill me...but they couldn't find me. Apparently, I was flying around on the others' screens too--I was just too far away for them to notice. I got Volt17 to find me and take some shots of it, but he hasn't e-mailed me the pics yet. I'll post them when I receive them.
