
Subject: Let's hold our own unofficial election!
Posted by Hydra on Tue, 01 Jun 2004 02:52:31 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Lol @ above.

So what if there's a book about George W. Bush's misquotes? What does that say about his intelligence? Absolutely nothing. All it says is that George W. Bush is not a good orator. Besides, why would you care about how many misquotes a person has made before? Shouldn't the candidate's stance on the issues be more important? Apparently it isn't to you since you support a man who has changed positions on each issue he touches more than a two dollar crack whore changes sex partners.
