Picture this,

2 GDI soldiers, 1 with a beacon, sneak up on a tank pinning someone else down. They open the hatch, where one fires his rifle to cover the other, who doesn't throw a grenade down but an armed beacon. They re-shut the hatch and suppress the commanders as they make attempts to escape. The commanders attempt to defuse the beacon but upon pressing anything the beacon gives off a flash-bang and hazes them all. Ion cannon strike... BOINK!
