rm5248the morons who are making this mod53 years after the U.S. and China claimed victory over the GLA, several meteors streaked towards Earth. The meteors struck the blue planet, and released a mutative material now known as Tiberium.

HOW ABOUT GENERALS ISN'T PART OF THE C&C WORLD MORONS!

If you read further you would notice that although based on the original story line, the facts in that story also don't have anything in common with the original storyline.

It's just like complaining about the dune game series not being true to the original story line. And if WS could get a way with a Crappy storyline in RA2, why must they try to do a better job.
