Listen, I've been punished enough. You obviously don't know my side of the story. The Black-cell admins completely destroyed my community I worked my ass off to build. If I launch any of my old servers, they'll get knocked offline. WD cost me $75 with DS too. A Servermatrix technician spotted it and they promptly forced me to do an OS reinstall because it's an obvious IRC client. I'm just trying to get on with my life. I don't see why you can't drop it and do the same.
