I didn't "tell" you to do anything. You might do well to actually fix your typos before you submit your posts, so they don't look so horrible. It amazes me how some people take offense to what you say, even when you spend a minute thinking of a non-rude way to say it. Might as well have said everything explicitly the first time.

About the ban. This damage stuff wasn't so well known at the time he was banned. The actual reasons were pretty different. I didn't witness this, but apparently he'd been doing a lot of damage to vehicles with chaingun officers and the like. Search the pits forum, I'd check problem players section.. you'll find some stuff on it. Look for posts by msgtpain.

I've never witnessed this "double damage" bug myself in 1 & a half years of playing.
