"Later that evening Meiwes cut off Brandes' penis and both men tried - and failed - to eat it...At 3.30am Meiwes laid his unconscious victim on the slaughter table and stabbed him to death. He then hung him on a hook, cut out some of his organs, and went to bed....the cannibal admitted to cooking parts of Brandes with olive oil, garlic, pepper and nutmeg, and eating him with sprouts, potatoes and a bottle of South African red wine on a festively decorated table....he had used one of his victim's feet as a table ornament and had tried to make flour by grating an arm bone after first baking it in the oven...

OMG WTF is wrong with people these days?????!!
