The tail was visible to all.

And read the Hebrew lettering on that tomb, it says something like "here lies Abel" and the lettering on the wall with him killing Abel says something like that, except detailing what happened.

I'm sure an Israeli can tell us exactly what both say.

The "canon of C&C" is written by Cypher, and it's not WS condoned, seeing as how it was made after WS was removed. Cypher's information is usually not reliable.
