That's fine and dandy... Except any time anyone tries to get him to do better, you receive "I'm only doing this for fun" as a response.

Basically a big "Fuck you, I won't make this better" in disguise.

I said that only once ack. I said that to you, to explain you that some people have fun making mods. Next time, will I say to you 'fuck you' ?

as you wish. Stop the bullshit lies ! Every guy who read this topic will see how you abuse of mushrooms !

And I am not your friend or something else... so plz next time, don't make such stupid comments about the name of our team. Do you think 'aircraftkiller' is a better name ? Moron !!!!!

Do I care if it's a better name? Not really. That's not what the issue here is. I keep telling it to you over and over, either you're a retard or you're so poor in English that you can't understand what I'm getting at.

Lets try this again.

The more you say "We're just doing this for fun," like you've said for the past months, the more you bullshit and lie to people.

If you're doing it for fun and just fun alone, you'd have done it by yourselves without telling anyone and just played it in LAN games. That's not the case, you're presenting it to the online community and you bullshit them with that response.

If it's that hard for you to fix what you've made, why are you doing this? For fun? Perhaps people find it fun to bash Reborn for reverting to their old ways, so I hope you don't have a problem with that.
