My question, being something of an Apiarist because of my dad, why were they shipping that many colonies at once? I mean even commercially, you shouldn't have to haul 512 hives anywhere. It's ridiculous, I also didn't like how they made the bees sound like they were attacking everything in sight. You work with bees, you get stung sometimes. But 99% of hives in America are not Africanized("Killer Bees") swarms that kill everything in sight.
