Completely off topic, but there are a lot of techie people here so....

I was wondering if anyone had experience with the SMS 2003 SP1 beta, or more specifically how to get it to run on the internet. We're using Satcom for download and 512/256 ADSL for upload. The central servers are running Windows server 2003 Enterprise edition and the computers we're trying to connect to are using Windows XP Professional. Also this will have to go through dual Cisco 1024 pix firewalls. I can't imagine this will get a good response but any help would be appreciated.
