I don't know what the problem is at the moment, but people, for whatever reason get a firewall error when trying to connect to Renegade via RenGuard.

A temporary solution to this is for players to start Renegade via the Game2.exe that is located in your Renegade folder. This bypasses the Renguard program, and allows you to play normally.

Keep in mind, when you join this way you are not connected to the RenGuard network, and will not be able to join any protected server.
