You're right. There is a ramp there. That doesn't mean you have to drive on it. You do know that not all ramps are made for driving vehicles on right? I have yet to see some idiot haul off and try to drive his vehicle up a wheelchair ramp. If it were meant to be driven on, they would have made it a size where that was obvious. Oh my god. You mean to tell me that the reason it is only wide enough for infantry is because... gasp... it's for INFANTRY!?!?!
