Don't fix the top of the bar. It's not that hard to get up there. I've seen the beacon get disarmed up there before. The only time it's impossible to disarm is if you get up there too late with a basic engi and you're alone and the sbh starts shooting at you... just try to avoid this situation.

If the beacon is on top of the bar:

1. instead of playing hero and silently disarming it yourself, tell your team where it is before going to disarm it.
  2. if multiple engis are trying to jump on top of the bar, just let them jump first so you all don't fall down.
